Dick Lavsky takes his first big step,

and moves to 16 East 48th Street.

Into a setting of opulent splendor and conspicuous success, that is in reality a completely equipped recording studio . . . staffed by top professional engineers. With comprehensive facilities for: sync. voice recordings for anything from spots to feature films; single and group vocal and instrumental recordings; both studio and remote sound effects; ½" and 35mm transfer and editing; and cartridge recording and loading. At your disposal are: a Moog electronic music synthesizer; video-tape playback equipment; and all the other stuff with lights, knobs, and dials. Plus the hippest sound and music libraries around. And last, but not least, the 'unheard' new sounds of a Dick Lavsky original score.
